

The art of wine

A new perspective

Franciacorta, Italy

The owner of Ca' del Bosco, Maurizio Zanella, had a vision of asking internationally renowned photographers to interpret the world of wine through their lenses. Many famous photographers visited the estate, including Helmut Newton, Don McCullin, Franco Bonetti, Ralph Gibson and Japanese photographer Eikoh Hosoe, who took this witty shot. As far as we know, no vineyard workers were harmed in the process...

Photograph: Eikoh Hosoe, from the book TI fotografi 1 vino (published by Skira, 2004)

